Private Pilot Licence

About the Course

The Private Pilot Licence (PPL) Course comprises of;

- 45 hours of Flight Training, of which 13 hours are solo flights.
- 18 hours of pre-flight briefings
- 100 hours of theoretical knowledge training in preparation for 9 exams

In order to fly solo and to exercise the privileges of an EASA Private Pilot Licence you must be in possession of an EASA Class Two Medical. A list of medical examiners who can undertake class two initial medicals can be found at <https://www.iaa.ie/personnel-licensing/aero-medical-section/examiners> In order to fly solo you must pass an English Language Proficiency Test

The PPL course will not only teach you how to control the aircraft, but is aimed at giving you a solid understanding of the following subjects:

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|
| ● Aircraft General Knowledge | ● Meteorology |
| ● Air Law | ● Navigation |
| ● Communication | ● Operational Procedures |
| ● Flight Performance & Planning | ● Principles of Flight |
| ● Human Performance & Limitations | |

The aim of the PPL Course is to provide the pilot with the skills and understanding necessary to safely fly a single engine aircraft during daylight hours for private purposes.

Pre-Requisites

To begin the training there are no pre-requisites, other than the ability to be able to reach all of the controls when seated in the pilot seat. NFC minimum age to begin training is 15, you must be at least 16 years of age to fly the aeroplane solo. You must be 17 years of age for the issue of an EASA Private Pilot Licence.

Start Dates

Each Student commences and progresses through the course at a time and pace that suits them. There are pre-set dates for the ground school/briefings for the theoretical knowledge, this takes place over a series of weekends. The dates for ground school courses can be found at <https://nfc.ie/ppl-groundschoo-courses>.

Course Length & Limitations

There is no minimum nor maximum amount of time in which the training must be completed. Remember that the 45 hours of flight training is the minimum amount of training required, however, there is a standard that needs to be reached prior to applying for your pilot skills test. Our standard operating procedures dictate a maximum of 4 hours flying/simulator training per day and 20 hours in any 6 day period.
