

Company overview

Aura is building a safer, healthier digital world. Our all-in-one online safety platform empowers individuals, families, and institutions with proactive protection against identity theft, financial fraud, and online threats, along with tools that help schools and parents protect children from cyberbullying, harmful content, and threats to their wellbeing.

In 2026, Aura listed on the ASX following its acquisition of Qoria, a leading global provider of K-12 school safety and student wellbeing solutions. Together, as Aura Consolidated Group, Inc. (ASX: AXQ), our platform spans the environments that matter most— home, school, and work— creating an end-to-end protection model for the many dimensions of digital life.

Product overview

Aura (ASX: AXQ) is a global leader in online safety and wellbeing. Built on the belief that people deserve a trusted, always-on layer of protection, Aura's AI-powered platform delivers protection for individuals, families and enterprises— from proactive protection against identity theft, financial fraud and online threats to tools that help schools and parents protect children from cyberbullying, harmful content, and threats to their wellbeing. Aura's platform spans the environments that matter most— home, school and work— empowering people of all ages with end-to-end protection for every aspect of online life.

Qoria adds a highly strategic layer to the Aura platform— extending our presence into the school ecosystem and deepening our capabilities. Qoria's K-12 platform spans network security, content filtering, classroom management, and student wellbeing support, while Qustodio strengthens our family safety suite with parental controls features.
