How and when to notify Ofsted

You must inform us if a serious accident, injury or death occurs in your childcare provision as soon as you reasonably can, and in all cases, within 14 days of the incident. If you also need to notify your local child protection agency (see below), we recommend you do this at the same time.

The quickest and easiest way to notify us is to telephone us on 0300 123 1231. We may need to transfer your call to someone else who can help you. We will ask you some questions about the incident including when and where it happened, and the details of what happened. We will also ask for personal details (for example the name and age of the child or children involved; details of any other people involved). We may ask you to put the information in writing to us. We keep a record of all information given to us, whether this is given by telephone or in writing. We may need to share this information with other agencies that have duties in relation to the incident, such as local authority environmental health departments.

If you are on the Early Years Register you are committing an offence by not notifying us within 14 days, unless you have a reasonable excuse.

If you are on the Childcare Register it is not an offence but failing to notify us would be taken into account in making any decisions about your continued registration, if it was brought to our attention.

5 The Childcare Register (General Childcare Register) Regulations 2008, Schedule 3 Regulation 6 paragraph 25 and Schedule 6 Regulation 12 paragraph 26.

Serious accidents, injuries and deaths that registered providers must notify to Ofsted and local child protection agencies February 2011, No. 110009

What you must notify to Ofsted You must notify us about:

- ☐ the death of a child while on the premises, or later, as the result of something that happened while the child was in your care

- ☐ death or serious accident or serious injury to any other person on your premises (Childcare Register only)
- ☐ serious injuries (please see the section below for the definition of serious injuries)
- ☐ where a child in your care is taken to hospital (to an Accident and Emergency Department for more than 24 hours), either directly from your provision, or later, as the result of something that happened while the child was in your care
- ☐ any significant event which is likely to affect the suitability to care for children.⁶

We define serious injuries as:

- ☐ broken bones or a fracture
- ☐ loss of consciousness
- ☐ pain that is not relieved by simple pain killers
- ☐ acute confused state
- ☐ persistent, severe chest pain or breathing difficulties
- ☐ amputation
- ☐ dislocation of any major joint including the shoulder, hip, knee, elbow or spine
- ☐ loss of sight (temporary or permanent)
- ☐ chemical or hot metal burn to the eye or any penetrating injury to the eye ☐ injury resulting from an electric shock or electrical burn leading to unconsciousness, or requiring resuscitation or admittance to hospital for more than 24 hours
- ☐ any other injury leading to hypothermia, heat-induced illness or unconsciousness; or requiring resuscitation; or requiring admittance to hospital for more than 24 hours
- ☐ unconsciousness caused by asphyxia or exposure to harmful substance or biological agent

⁶ The Childcare Register (General Childcare Register) Regulations 2008, Schedule 3 Regulation 6 paragraph 26.

Serious accidents, injuries and deaths that registered providers must notify to Ofsted and local child protection agencies February 2011, No. 110009

- ☐ medical treatment, or loss of consciousness arising from absorption of any substance by inhalation, ingestion or through the skin
- ☐ medical treatment where there is reason to believe that this resulted from exposure to a biological agent, or its toxins, or infected material.

You are not required to inform us of minor injuries, but you must keep a record of these incidents (see 'What records do I need to keep' below). You are also not required to inform us of general appointments to hospital or routine treatment by a doctor, such as the child's general practitioner, that is not linked to, or is a consequence of, a serious accident or injury. We define minor injuries as:

- ☐ sprains, strains and bruising
- ☐ cuts and grazes
- ☐ wound infections
- ☐ minor burns and scalds
- ☐ minor head injuries
- ☐ insect and animal bites
- ☐ minor eye injuries
- ☐ minor injuries to the back, shoulder and chest. What you must notify to your local child protection agency

If you are on the Early Years Register, the Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage requires you to notify your local child protection agency of any serious accident or injury to or death of a child in your care and to act on the advice given. You must use your professional judgment, alongside any guidance you have from your local authority, on which serious accidents or injuries you inform your local child protection agency about. Some local child protection authorities have their own written guidance about the types of incidents you need to report to them. If you do not have any written guidance from your local authority then you should notify them of the same serious accidents, or injuries or deaths that you are required to notify to Ofsted.

Requirement to notify other agencies

The introduction to this factsheet sets out that you may also have to report any serious accident, injury or death to other agencies and organisations. It is not within our remit to determine whether a provider has met other authorities' regulatory requirements. This includes those relating to reporting accidents to the Health and Safety Executive, or local authority environmental health departments. Other regulatory authorities have responsibility for ensuring that providers meet their legal requirements, and may take action against providers who do not meet them.

Requirement to inform parents

The Early Years Foundation Stage requires providers, on the child's admission, to seek parental permission for any necessary emergency medical advice or treatment in the future. Provider must also inform parents of any accidents or injuries sustained by the child while the child is in their care and of any first aid treatment given. It does not give a timescale in which to do this but it is good practice to do this on the same day. This will normally be when the child is collected from the childcare provider. Most providers do this by asking parents to view the record of the accident or injury and to sign to say they have seen it. If you wish to use this type of approach you must also be aware of the data protection rules and not allow parents to view personal information other than that relating to their own child. The requirement to inform parents is more general than that to notify Ofsted and parents should be informed of any accident or injury especially where first aid is necessary.

Where a child is picked up by someone other than the child's parent, with the permission of the parent, we would normally accept that notifying this person is sufficient to satisfy this requirement. You may wish to establish this practice by including it in the information you give to parents.

The Childcare Register does not specifically require you to inform parents, but it remains good practice to do so.

RIDDOR

Types of reportable incidents

Deaths and injuries

If someone has died or has been injured because of a work-related accident this may have to be reported. Not all accidents need to be reported, other than for certain gas incidents, a RIDDOR report is required only when:

- the accident is work-related
- it results in an injury of a type which is reportable

Types of reportable injury

The death of any person

All deaths to workers and non-workers, with the exception of suicides, must be reported if they arise from a work-related accident, including an act of physical violence to a worker.

Specified injuries to workers

The list of 'specified injuries' in RIDDOR 2013 replaces the previous list of 'major injuries' in RIDDOR 1995. Specified injuries are (regulation 4):

- fractures, other than to fingers, thumbs and toes
- amputations
- any injury likely to lead to permanent loss of sight or reduction in sight
- any crush injury to the head or torso causing damage to the brain or internal organs
- serious burns (including scalding) which:
 - covers more than 10% of the body
 - causes significant damage to the eyes, respiratory system or other vital organs
- any scalping requiring hospital treatment
- any loss of consciousness caused by head injury or asphyxia
- any other injury arising from working in an enclosed space which:
 - leads to hypothermia or heat-induced illness
 - requires resuscitation or admittance to hospital for more than 24 hours

For further guidance on specified injuries is available. Over-seven-day incapacitation of a worker

Accidents must be reported where they result in an employee or self-employed person being away from work, or unable to perform their normal work duties, for more than seven consecutive days as the result of their injury. This seven day period does not include the day of the accident, but does include weekends and rest days.

The report must be made within 15 days of the accident.

Over-three-day incapacitation

Accidents must be recorded, but not reported where they result in a worker being incapacitated for more than three consecutive days. If you are an employer, who must keep an accident book under the Social Security (Claims and Payments) Regulations 1979, that record will be enough.

Non fatal accidents to non-workers (eg members of the public)

Accidents to members of the public or others who are not at work must be reported if they result in an injury and the person is taken directly from the scene of the accident to hospital for treatment to that injury. Examinations and diagnostic tests do not constitute 'treatment' in such circumstances.

There is no need to report incidents where people are taken to hospital purely as a precaution when no injury is apparent.

If the accident occurred at a hospital, the report only needs to be made if the injury is a 'specified injury' (see above).

Occupational diseases

Employers and self-employed people must report diagnoses of certain occupational diseases, where these are likely to have been caused or made worse by their work:

These diseases include (regulations 8 and 9):

- carpal tunnel syndrome;
- severe cramp of the hand or forearm;
- occupational dermatitis;
- hand-arm vibration syndrome;
- occupational asthma;
- tendonitis or tenosynovitis of the hand or forearm;
- any occupational cancer;
- any disease attributed to an occupational exposure to a biological agent.

Further guidance on occupational diseases is available.

Specific guidance is also available for:

- occupational cancers
- diseases associated with biological agents

Dangerous occurrences

Dangerous occurrences are certain, specified near-miss events. Not all such events require reporting. There are 27 categories of dangerous occurrences that are relevant to most workplaces, for example:

- the collapse, overturning or failure of load-bearing parts of lifts and lifting equipment;
- plant or equipment coming into contact with overhead power lines;
- the accidental release of any substance which could cause injury to any person.
