Included in every plan

- Unlimited viewers
Every user on your account can open every page. You are never charged per seat to look at one.
- Secure authentication
Your existing Fulcrum sign-in and access controls carry straight through.
- Hosted by fulcrum
Nothing to deploy and no infrastructure to run. Pages sit in your navigation alongside everything else. ITAR secure.
- Live Fulcrum data
Pages read your jobs, materials and shipments as they are. No exports, syncs or integrations to maintain.
- Your permissions apply
Pages respect the access rules you already have. Nobody sees anything they could not see already.

How the token allowance works

Creating and editing a page uses AI, and that is what the allowance covers. Viewing a page uses none of it, so the people reading your pages or using your tools never draw down the balance. Most pages are built well inside five million tokens. The allowance is set deliberately high — you should not have to think about it, and the additional charge exists only to cover our costs in the rare case that usage runs far beyond normal. The allowance is pooled annually, so a heavy month of building does not matter as long as the year stays within it.
