

If you are struggling to keep your children safe at home, we can help

With the right support you can build upon your parenting skills, create a plan for your children's future and establish a safe, nurturing home environment.

With some small changes, things can get better. You can improve your children's health, safety and wellbeing, and ensure they are set up for a bright future.

The Intensive Family Support Service (IFSS) Midland is delivered in partnership between Wanslea and Indigo Junction/Karlup Aboriginal Corporation.

Wanslea acknowledges the Traditional Owners of country throughout Australia and recognises their continuing connection to land, waters and community. We pay our respects to them and their cultures; and to elders both past and present.

Intensive Family Support Service

Keeping families together with practical education and support for parents

What is the Intensive Family Support Service?

Wanslea's Intensive Family Support Service (IFSS) provides in home support to families who are at risk of child protection intervention or who require support to reunify children back to their care.

Our service is designed to help you maintain your children's safety while ensuring they stay connected to their family, community and culture.

Where we operate

The Intensive Family Support Service will be available for families in Midland and surrounds starting 1 December 2025.

How we help

We have Karup's Aboriginal Cultural Lead and Family Support Worker, who will be available to be a part of your team. They will work with you to build upon your strengths to keep your family together.

We will seek to fully understand your circumstances and identify your strengths before recommending strategies and resources to address child protection concerns.

By collaborating with your support team, you can increase the safety of your home and take action to keep your family together.

How to apply

1. Understand your eligibility: The service is for families who are currently working with the Department of Communities who need help to improve their family's wellbeing and safety.

2. Request a referral: If you feel like you, or someone you are working with could benefit from this service, please contact the family's case manager at the Department of Communities or Wanslea's Midland office to discuss the possibility of a referral.

3. Get support: If you are referred to us via the Department of Communities, you'll be fully supported by our Case Worker to work towards your goals and family reunification, keeping your children safe in your home.
