Subject: Introducing you to CertifID — worth a look

From: [Your email]

Hi [Referred contact first name],

I wanted to connect you with the team at CertifID — we've been using them to protect our wire transfers, and I think it'd be worth a conversation for your team.

CertifID is a wire fraud prevention platform that helps title companies and real estate attorneys verify identities and bank account information before sending wires, so you can be confident funds are going exactly where they're supposed to go. It's given us real peace of mind on every closing.

I've CC'd their team here so they can reach out directly and set up a quick call at your convenience.
