

The Retail Crime Hub

Identify the people driving retail crime.
Build stronger cases. Save time.

The challenge

Retail crime is increasingly organized, mobile, and repeat-driven — yet the intelligence needed to stop it remains fragmented across stores, organizations, and jurisdictions. A small number of people drive a disproportionate amount of loss and harm, but investigators are forced to piece together evidence manually, slowing action and stretching already limited resources.

Without a clear, connected view of repeat activity, harm escalates and agencies are left reacting instead of prioritizing the people causing the most impact.

The solution: Retail Crime Hub

The Retail Crime Hub provides access to retailer-submitted intelligence and digital evidence that can be transferred directly into Axon Evidence — giving agencies a faster, more connected way to address organized and repeat retail crime.

What agencies can do

Focus on top offenders

Identify the 10% of offenders who account for 70% of retail loss. The Retail Crime Hub surfaces repeat patterns and prolific networks so agencies can prioritize the cases that matter most.

Save time

Replace in-person evidence collection with secure, one-click transfers from retailers into Axon Evidence. Investigators save an average of 3.5 hours per report, freeing officers to focus on higher-priority calls.

Build stronger cases

Structured, packaged incident data makes it easy to connect multiple events, prove organized retail crime, and deliver clear, prosecutor-ready evidence.

Collaborate seamlessly

Securely gather and request evidence from 26,000+ US retail locations to keep communities safer across city, county, and state lines.

How it works

1. Retailers submit structured incident reports and digital evidence through Auror.
2. Evidence can be securely transferred into Axon Evidence — no in-person collection required.
3. Investigators view connected incidents, repeat patterns, and supporting evidence in one place
4. Agencies prioritize top offenders, strengthen cases, and close investigations faster..

Who it's for

- Organized retail crime and repeat offender units
- Property crime and investigations teams
- Agencies working across jurisdictions
- Patrol officers and investigators

Getting started

You already have access to the Retail Crime Hub as part of your broader Axon solution.

Next steps:

- Request a walkthrough to see the retailers in your jurisdiction using Auror
- Learn how to onboard and start using the Retail Crime Hub
- Start receiving structured retail crime evidence

“As the latest milestone in our strategic partnership with Auror, this new integration delivers immediate operational and investigative advantages, while enhancing collaboration with retailers to more effectively combat organized retail crime and advance community safety.”
