

We are pleased to share that Neil Cockburn, FCPA, FCA, FEA, TEP, CFP, will be taking on a new role at KRP as Director of Family Enterprise Advisory Services.

With over 40 years of advising private enterprises and families, Neil will leverage his FEA (Family Enterprise Advisor) training to lead the KRP team to provide a comprehensive range of services. In this role, Neil and the KRP team will focus on addressing a key question for family enterprises and the families who own them: “Are you ready?”

This encompasses readiness across several critical areas, including:

- Wills and estate planning
- Estate terminal tax liability and planning
- Business succession planning
- Corporate governance (advisory vs. fiduciary)
- Family governance, values, and constitution
- Business exit planning

Please reach out to Neil or your KRP contact if you would like to learn more or have questions.
