VENUE

Tank-fresh craft beer, sustainable urban gin distilling
and over 30 food vendors from all around the world.

The Glasshaus is based inside the giant food and drink market 'Mercato Metropolitano', a short walk from Elephant and Castle station in South London. Whether you want a German beer fresh from the tank, a gin distilled onsite with our distillery partners, a refreshing cocktail, wine or something else, we've got you covered.

An aerial photograph of a modern restaurant at night. The building features a large, illuminated glass roof and walls, revealing the interior where many people are seated at tables. A paved courtyard in front of the building is filled with people walking and standing. To the right, there is a wooden bar area with a palm tree and other plants. In the background, a brick wall with graffiti and a multi-story building are visible.

DRINKS

On-site German brewery, sustainable gin distillery and
a fully stocked bar!

German Kraft redefines traditional methods of brewing by creating clean, fresh beer brewed and served straight from the tank. In doing so, we reduce our CO2 footprint by 75% in comparison to the average brewery.

Jim and Tonic believe it's about time quality spirits and sustainability went hand in hand. Distilled onsite, Jim and Tonic use sustainable production methods to reduce waste water and conserve resources.
