Gemma has a diploma in Nutrition and Dietetics from CESNID (University of Barcelona), a degree in Nutrition from King's College London, a postgraduate degree in Sports Nutrition and PNIE (Psycho neuroimmune endocrinology) from the University of Barcelona, and a diploma in Ayurveda Nutrition, Energy Cooking and Naturopathy.

Nutrition is a very new science and the professionals who are dedicated to it have to be continuously researching, training and contrasting information with the most ancient medicines (Chinese, Ayurveda and Tibetan). Hence Gemma's constant trips to the Asian continent, where she tries to absorb the most ancient knowledge. Her curiosity and passion for nutrition have led her to write the books "Help me grow healthy" and "Live gluten-free". Currently Gemma advises elite sportsmen (tennis, motorbike, Dakar, football, sailing, swimming, golf, athletics, horse riding, cycling, runners, archery, cricket) and sports and health companies in different parts of the world.
