3 Observations

- The unknowable came to be known.

- The Gospel of John assumes the humanity of Jesus and seeks to confirm His deity.
- The book of 1 John assumes the deity of Jesus and seeks to confirm His humanity.

The Gospel moves us from noise to knowledge.

- True joy is found in fellowship not philosophy.

- Emphasis on “we” + “us” not I.
- Those who abide lose their pride.

The “inner circle” is for everyone in Christ.

- Christ’s desire is that these truths would go from unheard of anywhere to declared everywhere.

- Jesus wants this - fellowship in the Spirit not focus on self.

Discussion Questions:

1. What does John want you to know in this passage?
2. Compare the opening lines of the Gospel of John (John 1:1-5) with the opening lines of 1 John (1 John 1:1-5) What stands out to you?
3. What is so important about fellowship in these opening verses?
4. Describe a time when you’ve felt “complete joy”. Do you think everyone can experience this?
5. Why does John put such emphasis on hearing and declaring? What truths about Jesus do you declare?
