

CoMoUK is delighted to be hosting its first in-person conference since 2019. This is a unique opportunity to shine a light on shared transport and its key role in sustainable transport and spatial planning.

The conference will take place on Wednesday 25th March 2026 at the NVCO in the London Borough of Camden and will include a tour of Camden's new Somers Town mobility hubs.

As the only conference focussing on shared transport in the UK, you will be able to showcase your achievements and innovations to key stakeholders in the public sector and meet potential collaborators.

Sponsorships with a speaking slot will get the chance to highlight contribution to the critical areas within shared transport which the conference will cover. This will include

- Bike share licencing
- EVs and car club development
- AVs and their relationship to sustainable transport
- Mobility hubs and spatial planning
- Improving access for disabled people

We will be looking ahead as to where the UK should go on shared transport and mobility hubs with the climate, cost of living and public health crises continuing to press, elections in Scotland, Wales and elsewhere in May 2026 and the bulk of this UK Government's term still to come.
