Life Group Questions to consider:

1. Paul had an impressive résumé, but after encountering Jesus, he understood his life differently. What are some things we're tempted to let define us besides Christ?
2. Paul's story reminds us that God pursued him even when he was actively resisting Him. How has God pursued you, redirected you, or shown you grace in your own story?
3. If someone only saw the way you spend your time, energy, attention, and resources, what might they conclude is most important to you?
4. Where in your life right now is it hardest to believe that God is in control rather than you? What would trusting Him in that area actually look like?
5. Paul's obedience didn't guarantee an easy outcome. Is there a step of obedience you sense God asking you to take, even though you can't control what happens afterward?
6. In what area of your life are you currently trying to control circumstances in human strength rather than leaning on the Holy Spirit? And what would one small step of obedience look like for you and/or your family this week to live more reliant on the Spirit?

Prayer:

- Jesus, keep Your love at the center of my life. Teach me to rest in relationship with You and trust You as I follow in joyful obedience.
- For each person in your group to know which next step God is calling them to. Pray that they will have clear opportunities to see God work in their lives.
- Pray that the group would surround the collective next steps and help encourage as they are taken.
- Pray for interactions with people far from God and for the group to be able to step into those conversations.
