Minecraft Creator Lab: Build, Code, Customize

How does your student like to create?

Whether they love to code games for friends to play, show off their very own artwork, or tell stories that bring others into the action, this comprehensive adventure will give them the tools to build whatever they can imagine.

Using Minecraft as a vehicle for advanced learning, students will design their own games and build real industry skills. Use level design to tell stories, code and wire complex puzzles, and sculpt an immersive world with us!
