Subject: Next Bridge - MMTLP

Robert,
It has been some time since our last communications. I wanted to share with you two recent letters I have sent to the SEC. The first, dated July 2, 2026, represents my sixth request to the SEC Commissioners for a meeting to discuss the Next Bridge Hydrocarbons share imbalance arising from FINRA's U3 halt of MMTLP. The second, dated August 7, 2026, requests a meeting with the new Director of the SEC's Division of Enforcement to discuss our evidence that demonstrates the creation of unauthorized Next Bridge Hydrocarbons shares by U.S. broker-dealers.

Because these broker-dealers creating unauthorized shares also fall under FINRA's regulatory purview, I believe it is important that you receive these letters as well. For more than three years, we have repeatedly sought regulatory assistance and transparency regarding what occurred with MMTLP and the resulting damage to our company and our shareholders. If the regulators continue to take no meaningful action to address these issues, Next Bridge will soon make a significant change in its approach to seeking transparency and accountability.

Before we take that step, however, I would welcome the opportunity to speak with you directly. If you see value in a phone call to determine whether there is common ground and a constructive path forward, I am available at your convenience.
Respectfully,
Greg McCabe
