

Beyond Oil Expands into U.S. Supermarket Vertical with Multi-Phase Commercial Rollout with a Top-Tier U.S. Supermarket Brand

Initial Deployment Completed Across 13 Locations; Expansion to Other Locations Underway with Potential to Scale Across Hundreds of Stores

Vancouver, BC, March 30, 2026 -- Beyond Oil Ltd. (TSX: BOIL) (OTCQB: BEOLF) ("Beyond Oil" or the "Company"), a food-tech innovation company dedicated to reducing health risks associated with fried food while lowering operational costs, minimizing waste and enhancing sustainability, today announced its entry into the U.S. supermarket segment through a top-tier U.S. supermarket brand.

Following a successful pilot and initial commercial rollout across 13 locations, Beyond Oil has received strong operator satisfaction and measurable performance improvements and is now expanding into additional locations within the same retail group. The next phase of rollout is expected to include dozens of other locations, with a long-term opportunity to scale across hundreds of supermarkets across multiple states. Beyond Oil has also been encouraged by the customer's strong commitment to improving food quality, protecting worker safety, and advancing more sustainable kitchen operations.

This milestone marks Beyond Oil's entry into the high-potential food retail vertical, where prepared food programs represent a fast-growing segment characterized by very high frying volumes and strong recurring usage. The Company believes this vertical represents a substantial expansion opportunity alongside its existing focus on quick-service restaurant chains and foodservice operators.

"The successful rollout and strong operator satisfaction we've seen in the initial phase are highly encouraging," said Michael Nemirow, President of Beyond Oil North America. "We are particularly excited to partner with an organization that is deeply committed to improving food quality, enhancing worker safety, and advancing more sustainable operations. Supermarket and convenience store prepared food programs are increasingly central to the customer experience, and our solution is well positioned to help operators deliver on these priorities while improving consistency and efficiency."
