Living our Best Life!

Imagine a community where all abilities are celebrated, where persons with intellectual and developmental differences (IDD) are treated with the dignity and respect they deserve.

When you ask adults with IDD what they seek in life, they respond in the same way as their contemporaries. They want a good home, a good life, a good job, and good friends. Just as we do.

To provide that good home, Independence Landing is creating an affordable housing community for people with IDD that will provide camaraderie, acceptance and the opportunity for achievement. To provide good jobs we are partnering with area businesses and educational facilities which offer vocational training and careers for community residents. To promote healthy lifestyles recreation and leisure time activities will be encouraged throughout the community. To emphasize the importance of friendships and social interactions, we are including amenities which will provide stimulating choices for personal growth and satisfaction.

Independence Landing represents a new inclusive forward-thinking community which is affordable and provides quality services and supports which will enable each resident to maximize their independence.
