Simplify procurement with Trinnex and Sourcewell

Trinnex combines software, data science, cybersecurity, and utility consulting expertise to help water utilities solve complex operational and regulatory challenges. Through Sourcewell Contract #012524-TRX, utilities gain easy access to all Trinnex solutions.

Centralize water-quality data, automate compliance reporting, manage sampling schedules, and identify emerging risks before they become violations.

Use machine learning to identify likely service-line materials, prioritize verification, and focus replacement resources where they have the greatest impact.

Manage your lead and copper compliance program in one connected platform — inventories, sampling, replacements, field activities, and communications.

Pair powerful technology with experienced guidance. Trinnex provides consulting services to help utilities strengthen operations, make confident decisions, and build long-term resilience.

Trusted by utilities of all sizes

The Trinnex team has developed and implemented asset management and GIS projects for more than 150 large and small clients nationwide. Through Sourcewell, Trinnex provides services in advisory and digital strategy, enterprise asset management, GIS, cybersecurity, and data science to help utilities strengthen operations, make confident decisions, and build long-term resilience.
