SPAIN'S 100% NON-EU PROPERTY TAX STALLS IN CONGRESS

This article reports that the Spanish Prime Minister's plan to tax non-EU property purchasers up to 100% of the purchase price as tax has stalled due to lack of support by political minorities need to carry the vote. The plan which was to ease housing shortages for locals by making more residential property available has been made more acute by the IMF who warn that Spain must increase its housing supply.value
