NATIONAL BLACK POLICE ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE 2025How NBPA Conference Managed Over 400 Attendees with Streamlined Invoicing and Networking

Case Study

The National Black Police Association Conference is the annual flagship event of the National Black Police Association (NBPA), a professional organization dedicated to supporting Black law enforcement officers and improving policing in diverse communities.

Problem Statement

The National Black Police Association Conference brings together police officers to raise awareness about injustices within the force, specifically for minority officers, while remaining open to all attendees. The event combines educational talks with networking opportunities. As a non-profit organization, NBPA needed an affordable platform that could handle complex requirements: last-minute agenda changes, invoice-based ticketing with payment tracking, strict data privacy for police attendees, and seamless on-site networking—all without the pricing that had pushed them away from previous solutions.
