

When an idea becomes reality - From idea to prototype

Do you have an idea in mind but are still unsure about how to bring it to life? Or do you want to impress potential investors with something tangible? No problem! Together, we'll take a look at your idea and create a prototype. Whether it's a design prototype or a highly developed prototype nearing production readiness is entirely up to you.

Our approach:

You bring the idea, and we bring the expertise and necessary equipment to turn your idea into reality. Especially in the early stages, regular communication with our clients is very important to us, so that we all share the same understanding of the requirements. Typically, there isn't "the one" perfect solution at the start. For this reason, we develop various concepts in close consultation with you. The most promising concept is then further refined and realized as a prototype. Depending on the project requirements, we then produce the desired number of prototypes—usually between 1 and 20 units. Depending on the requirements, we also conduct initial tests in our laboratories.

The result:

Upon completion of our project, you will receive not only your first prototype but also the corresponding documentation, as well as all interim results we have gathered throughout the project. This gives you the freedom to move the project into the next phase either on your own, with another partner, or with us.

Framework:

- Duration: 4 weeks or more
- Cost: starting at €16,999
