Churches Against Labour Exploitation

Equipping Christians in the East Midlands to take action together against modern slavery

An invitation from

Caritas

A four-part introductory course
Wednesday evenings online from 18 November at 5.30 p.m.

Modern slavery and labour exploitation are not distant problems - they are present in towns, cities and rural communities across the East Midlands, affecting people in agriculture, food processing, social care and many other sectors. These crimes are sustained by isolation, debt, threats, insecure immigration status, and lack of awareness of employment rights.

Caritas Diocese of Nottingham, the Roman Catholic charitable agency in the East Midlands, invites you to join Churches Against Labour Exploitation, a short online training programme organised by Caritas Social Action Network in partnership with Focus on Labour Exploitation (FLEX). See the flyer overleaf for details and to book your place. Everyone is welcome, including friends from other churches.

More than just a training course

This is also an invitation to make a lasting difference. You can help to build a network of Christians across the East Midlands who are committed to action. After the course we will, if you wish, connect you with initiatives in your area to share intelligence, support campaigns and develop practical responses.

Join us to build a growing Christian witness against exploitation, and alongside those whose dignity has been denied.

FOCUS ON LABOUR EXPLOITATION

Churches Against Labour Exploitation

Online training for volunteers with a passion for action on labour exploitation and modern slavery

What drives forced labour and exploitation in our communities and globally, from care homes to farms and construction sites?

How can churches act together to support survivors, address modern slavery at the roots, and call for dignified work for all?

Take a deep dive over 4 weeks into the history and present of slavery, forced labour, and the role of the Church with CSAN, in partnership with Focus On Labour Exploitation.

Journey alongside others to discern how God is calling us to respond today - drawing on Catholic social thought and practice - and plan your next steps towards action.

4 Wednesday evenings beginning 18th November
