Love doesn't care where you came from.

Madeline Hunt is getting married - and she's come a long way from her humble beginnings to tie the knot with Aidan Aldair, NFL tight end and brother to one of Boston's biggest millionaires. In between picking her wedding gown and managing the palatial Aldair estate, former model Maddie is living her happily ever after - so why does she feel so empty inside?

When Maddie seeks help from past life therapist Brian Beckett, she finds out she and Aidan go even farther back than she thinks. But before she can ride off in the sunset with her Prince Charming, Maddie will need to unravel the links between the world she lives in now and the lives she and Aidan lived back then - exposing a secret that threatens to destroy everything they've worked for, and everything they share.
