A Moment Made Just For You!

A Valentine's tea can feel like a small luxury in the middle of winter, and honestly, it's one you deserve.

After the rush of the holidays and the slow start of a new year, taking time to pause, sip something warm, and enjoy beautifully set tables in the greenhouse becomes its own kind of self-care.

This gathering is meant to be a gentle reminder that treating yourself isn't frivolous — it's restorative.

Let the calm, the company, and the little indulgences be a moment you fully claim for yourself.
