To whom it may concern,

My name is Hannah LeSueur, and I am a student at BYU studying communications with an emphasis in visual journalism. I would be a great addition to the team because I have experience managing, designing, and writing articles. More importantly, I am passionate about the Church's mission and contributing to the Lord's work.

I have a passion for creativity when it comes to writing, especially when I can lift and benefit others with my message. I seek to use and expand my knowledge of effective communication through this opportunity. As an employee, I use my time efficiently to complete the task at hand. I can work under pressure in a professional manner. I find satisfaction in creating a finished product that is both eye-catching and meaningful. I am a quick learner and an adaptable worker. I enjoy working on projects in group settings as needed. I am proficient in communicating my ideas to others, which includes understanding other people's points of view. I have proficient communication skills in person, over the phone, and in writing. In addition, I enjoy creating designs that help to portray messages effectively. I like to be organized and clean in all of my work. I care about giving attention to small details to improve the overall project.

I look forward to hearing back about this job. I hope to learn and apply my writing skills to further impact others with the blessings of the gospel. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Hannah LeSueur
