Furniture shouldn't have an end date.

Every year, Europe throws away 11 billion kilograms of furniture. Around 90% is incinerated. Yet office furniture isn't made to last.* We take a different approach. By staying responsible for the furniture, we can keep products in use for longer, repair and reuse what already exists, and recover materials when products reach the end of their useful life. At the same time, plastic, textiles and other waste streams become the starting point for new furniture. Waste becomes material, material becomes furniture, and furniture stays in circulation.

Furniture without ownership

Why invest in furniture your organisation may not always need? With TRIBOO's circular furniture subscription, you pay one fixed monthly amount to use the furniture for your complete workplace.

But it goes beyond furniture finance. TRIBOO remains responsible for every product throughout its use, taking care of service, repairs, adjustments and returns. When your organisation changes, your furniture can change with it. And when something is no longer needed, it returns to us to be reused, repaired or recycled.

Turn waste into design

We take care of it

Pay for use.

Create a complete workplace without a large upfront furniture investment.

Stay flexible.

Add, swap, adapt and return furniture as your needs change.

Choose without limits.

Furnish every area of your workplace from an extensive collection of circular office furniture.

Turn waste into design.

Choose furniture created from waste streams, designed for a circular economy.

We take care of it.

From delivery and installation to maintenance, repairs and returns.

How it works:

1

Choose your design:

What is the look and feel of your workspace? Work with us to decide the design direction of your flexible workspace.

2

Choose your furniture:

Bring it all together. Choose your own furniture and configuration, or let TRIBOO create a complete workplace proposal around your space, needs and way of working.

3

Choose your subscription:

We create a tailored proposal around your workplace, furniture choices and period of use. You pay one fixed monthly amount.

4

Use without worries:

We deliver and install everything. During use, we take care of service, maintenance, repairs, adjustments and returns.

One monthly amount. Complete service.

You use the furniture, we take care of it. No large upfront investment and no need to own furniture your organisation may not always need.

Your tailored subscription brings the furniture and the services around it together in one predictable monthly amount.

See what's possible

From 1,000 workstations across multiple locations to complete interiors created with waste-based furniture, the circular subscription model is already taking shape in real workplaces. Different organisations, different needs, one approach built around using rather than owning, adapting rather than replacing, and keeping furniture and materials in circulation for longer.

Social Impact Factory

Waste-based design, used as a service.

For its third location, Social Impact Factory once again chose to use rather than own its furniture.

TRIBOO supplied a circular interior combining lightweight workstations, material-efficient seating and statement furniture 3D printed from waste streams. At the end of use, materials return to TRIBOO so they can remain in circulation.

SWECO

1,000 homes across the Netherlands

1,000 WORKPLACES. 1,000 ADDRESSES

Sweco wanted its employees to have healthy, circular workplaces at home.

Rather than purchasing the furniture, Sweco chose a product-as-a-service model. Employees could configure their own desk and chair, while TRIBOO remained responsible for the furniture and its materials.
