

Building an Innovation BUSINESS CASE

An innovation business case is a document to persuade stakeholders to action your innovation.

Make sure your innovation business case is easy to follow; visualizes your goals; and addresses potential shortcomings.

Your business case must include all financial, logistical, organizational, and risk data necessary to understand the innovation.

Write the document from the stakeholders' point of view.

Maintain a positive outlook throughout the document.