

Courageous Leadership

Courageous leaders are not afraid of the truth or difficult conversations

Courageous leadership is not a popularity contest

You should not be afraid of feedback or admitting you do not have all the answers

The spotlighting of others' success is more important than your own

Reflection is essential in maintaining your resilience as a courageous leader

