The Governance of God: How to be Politically Christian in 2026

Sunday, October 18 | 10:15 AM | Colhoun Room

Using Bible study, church history, existential psychology, and cultural criticism, the Rev. Dr. Dixon Kinser leads participants through a four-week class exploring what it means to be Christian in our current political climate. Designed to take place during the 2026 mid-term election, this class mixes lecture, multi-media, and spiritual practices to resource Jesus followers who want to know how their faith can help them be faithful this election cycle.

Feast of St. Luke: Eucharist at Noon

Pilgrimage in our Anglican Tradition

Sunday, Oct. 18 | 2:30 PM | The Station

Join Dr. Mitch Oxford for the second lecture in a three-part lecture series exploring the perennial power of Canterbury (and of pilgrimage as a practice) for ordinary believers—from the English medieval past, across the ordeals of Reformation and Revolution, and to our global Anglican present. These classes are for anyone looking to learn more about our tradition.

Today's lecture is Pilgrims' Progress: That Perilous Journey from English to Anglican Christianity

All lectures will take place on Sundays at 2:30 PM at the Station, and all are welcome to attend these standalone lectures.

Men's Ministry

Monday, October 19 | 6:00 PM | home of David Tamer
