

KAOS means to see chaos as an opportunity.
For people, teams and companies.

A woman with blonde hair, wearing a black dress and white sneakers, is sitting on a grey ledge on the left side of the image. She is looking towards the right, smiling. The background is a vast, rugged mountain range with brown and grey rock formations. A rainbow is visible in the sky on the right side, partially obscured by clouds. The overall scene is dramatic and scenic.

Coach Profile Katrin Ostermeier

Katrin Ostermeier

Business Coach - Mediator - Facilitator

KAOS stands for Katrin Ostermeier - and for chaos as a source of opportunities and potential. As a business coach, I see myself as a sparring partner in a professional context, supporting people in finding orientation within chaos, making resources visible, and unlocking potential.

I encourage people and teams to see chaos as an opportunity and to create a new, meaningful sense of order from it. As a trained mediator, I am also able to confidently accompany challenging and tense situations in highly complex environments.

My work is systemic, solution-focused and purpose oriented:

I take into account the context in which my coachees operate - from organisational culture and team dynamics to relevant relationships.

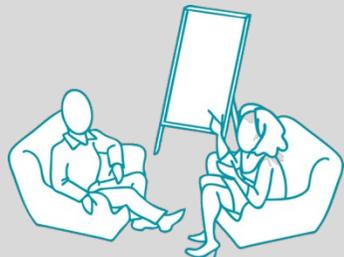

In my processes, the focus is on resources, goals, and actionable solutions. Challenges are not ignored; however, the emphasis is clearly on the future, effectiveness, and the ability to act.

I am convinced that people carry an inner desire to develop further, to make a meaningful contribution, and to grow through challenges—especially when their strengths are seen, utilised, and appreciated. And that true collaboration thrives on joy and a sense of connection.

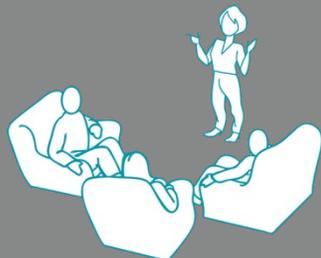

KAOS

My Expertise

Business Coaching / Leadership Coaching

I support people in making conscious decisions and facing challenges with clarity and confidence. I work with leaders to cultivate modern, authentic leadership - providing clear orientation for their teams while creating space for development and growth.

Mediation & Conflict Coaching

As a mediator, I support individuals, teams, and organisations when situations become challenging. I help them restore self-regulation, regain their ability to act, gain clarity, and find solutions that are sustainable and workable for everyone.

Team Coaching

I help teams stay motivated and empowered - ready to act with confidence and skill in fast-changing, complex environments, instead of just reacting. That means true teamwork, smooth collaboration, clear communication, shared goals, a strong vision, and genuine joy at work - whether in person, virtual, or hybrid.

Facilitation

As a facilitator, I design lively and creative group processes that inspire and connect. I create spaces where people can exchange ideas, enjoy working together, unlock potential, and harness the collective creativity and intelligence in the room - often in close collaboration with fellow facilitators, working in tandems and trios.

Who I Work With (selection)

I work with established companies as well as young start-ups. For clients from the public sector and the non-profit field, I offer my services at reduced daily rates.

What matters most in my work is mutual respect and a partnership-based collaboration on equal footing. For me, coaching is primarily a matter of mindset, not method. I see myself as a business coach - not a management consultant.

I look forward to working with you!
