Good Words for Great Souls

A Little October Magic ...

There's something a little magical about October: the crisp autumn air, colorful leaves dancing in the breeze, cozy sweaters, and pumpkins appearing on every doorstep. Even the moon seems to shine a little brighter this time of year!

While we may enjoy a little Halloween fun and a touch of "witchy" whimsy, we know that the greatest blessings aren't found in spells or potions. They're found in faith, friendship, laughter, and the people God places in our lives.

So grab your favorite sweater, enjoy a pumpkin treat, and let's welcome October with grateful hearts and plenty of smiles. May this beautiful season remind us to slow down, appreciate the little things, and give thanks for the blessings all around us.

Wishing you a cozy, colorful, and joy-filled October!

Tea time, but make it fabulous! Pinkies up!

As the crisp autumn air settles in, we find comfort in the simple blessings God provides - a soft blanket, the glow of candlelight, and the warmth of fellowship. Just as the seasons change, His love remains constant, wrapping us in peace and reminding us that we are never alone. May this season be a gentle reminder to slow down, savor each moment, and rest in the shelter of His care

The Gift of Being Remembered

BY CHAPLAIN BILL NOCITA

The Gift of Being Remembered

As we travel through this life, one of the simplest but greatest gifts we can give and receive is the gift of remembrance. To remember those we love is a way of expressing their importance in our lives – to affirm that their presence matters, and that they continue to be a part of our lives and our stories.

For Christians, the blessing of being remembered is both a promise and a call: as God's people, he promises that we are remembered by Him, and He calls us to remember Him and each other, so that our lives may become a source of blessing for others.

And, as we are approaching the Holiday season, keeping our loved ones close in our hearts honors them and the wonderful memories of times gone by. Remembering is more than just about recalling the past — it is about keeping a legacy alive. Consider keeping a record of God's blessings in your life — through a journal, a memorial, or an act of gratitude — that can remind and encourage us in times of doubt or struggle. Take time to participate in traditions, stories, and memorials that preserve the faith and values of your family and your community. And always trust and know that God's remembrance is eternal, even when human memory fades.

From One Family to Another

Church of Christ has been wonderful in every way, since moving our brother there on July 1st. The staff, administration, as well as facilities have been outstanding.
My brother enjoys the food, and the many services provided daily. He is an active participant in activities, which was not always the case in his prior, much more expensive facility. He is treated with dignity and respect on a daily basis.
Furthermore, any issues that have come up are handled quickly and professionally by both Robin, Rebecca, and all the staff.
Our family researched and toured many facilities locally before making the decision to move our brother to Church of Christ. After which and based on other friends' direct experience with the facility, and their family experiences, we made the decision.... and have had no regrets. My brother's safety, comfort, and care are a top priority for Church of Christ, while always respecting his feelings, pride, and dignity as a member of their community.

...Your feedback matters! You are the reason we are here!
