Daifuku Intralogistics America Corporation Announces Grand Opening of Expanded Facility in Hobart, Indiana

Hobart, Indiana – September 9, 2025 – Daifuku Intralogistics America Corporation, a subsidiary of Daifuku Co., Ltd., headquartered in Japan, is proud to announce the Grand Opening of its expanded facility in Hobart, Indiana, taking place on Thursday, October 2, 2025, from 11:00 AM to 2:00 PM CST.

The expansion adds 310,000 square feet of manufacturing and office space to the original 324,000 square foot facility, creating a total footprint of 634,000 square foot. This significant investment supports Daifuku Intralogistics America's long-term commitment to strengthening its material handling equipment (MHE) manufacturing capabilities in the United States, ensuring enhanced capacity to deliver advanced automation technologies and solutions to customers across North America.

The Hobart facility currently employs 440 professionals, with plans to expand the workforce by 350 over the coming years to meet the growing demands of the market.

"This expansion represents more than just additional space—it's a reflection of our dedication to innovation, our customers, and our long-term vision in the North American market," said Christoph Schenk, President at Daifuku Intralogistics America. "We are excited to complete this expansion and welcome our customers and partners to visit the new facility."

Invited guests will enjoy an exclusive first look inside the state-of-the-art facility, featuring:

- Guided tours of the expanded operations
- Product demonstrations showcasing the latest automation technologies
- Remarks from company leadership and local officials
- Networking opportunities with invited industry peers, media representatives, and partners
