You may use our Support Hours for

Technical Support

Our team can provide their deep technical expertise to your Atlassian system administrators. We can assist your staff with any challenges they may face in configuring and managing any aspect of your Cloud platform implementation.

Training Support

You may choose to use your support hours budget to run individual or group training sessions for your staff.

Marketplace App Support

We will assist you to triage and resolve incidents and problems with Marketplace Vendors Apps, leveraging our vendor relationships.

Project Work

You may choose to utilise your support hours to either specify any project or run small customisation/integration projects.

Release Track Management

We manage your Atlassian ecosystem updates in coordination with your staff. Atlassian Premium or Enterprise subscriptions are required to enable release management.

Backup & Restore Testing

Our team checks that your third-party backup app and backup services are working perfectly - by testing.

Terms and Conditions

Feature
Monthly Support Hours	Support provided by our team of professionals to your specified staff, with 'hours burned' tracked and reported monthly in 15 minute increments. Any support hours unused against the budgeted support hours can be rolled over for up to three months. We recommend that unused hours are used for training or project work. Any shortfall in hours for a given month or for the overall contract can be augmented by buying blocks of time, 10 hours per block.
Monthly Cost	Invoice issued as start of the month for that months' support (i.e. for February support, invoice issued on or around 1 February). 10% discount applies where annual support fees are paid in full upfront.
Reporting	Standard monthly reporting to your key representative, including key support agreement metrics tracking such as hours burndown, activity lists, and SLA compliance. Report sophistication and utility increases as your monthly spend increases.
Support Hours	Support hours time zone is Sydney Time. 9x5 support is 9am to 6pm Mon-Fri, and 12x5 support is 8am to 8pm Mon-Fri.
Support Channels	We offer a combination of dedicated phone line, Help Centre or Email channels for support. With our Gold plan we also offer direct B2B integration with your service desk for seamless escalation and ticket management.
Account Management	Our Account Manager is your constant point of contact and has your business interests at heart. Account Managers bring to the table a significant depth of Atlassian product knowledge that is available to help guide and optimise your Atlassian platform usage.
Proactive Advice	Where appropriate, we will include proactive recommendations to enhance the value you gain from your Atlassian platform.
Audit Log Review	Our staff regularly inspect your audit logs and raise any identified concerns with your designated contact.
Onsite Support	Onsite support may be available, please check with your Togetha representative and additional travel costs may apply.
