About us

National Disability
Research Partnership

We are the NDRP.

Our long name is National Disability Research Partnership.

We know some things are bad.

It is for people with disability. Like

- it can be hard to get a job
- you may not feel safe.

We want to make things better.

We do research. We

- listen to people with disabilities
- read what other people do.
- help other people do research.

We may give some money to people who do research.

It helps them do this work.

We share what we learn.

Like with the government.

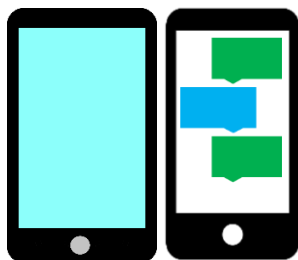

It helps them know what to do.

National Disability
Research Partnership

You may want to

- know more about us
- know more about the research
- tell us what you think.
