

Litica joins The European Litigation Funders Association (ELFA)

BRUSSELS, 05 May 2026: The European Litigation Funders Association (ELFA) is pleased to announce that Litica, a leading provider of commercial ATE and litigation insurance in the UK and Europe, has joined ELFA as an Associate Member.

Ed Yell, Managing Director of Litica Europe, stated: “Litigation insurance is now a common feature of many litigation funding deals. At the same time, we recognise that its growth in the EU has been somewhat constrained by a UK-centric approach. We very much welcome the opportunity to join ELFA as an Associate Member, supporting the development of litigation funding in Europe, contributing to the EU-wide discussion, and working with ELFA members to design insurance products that are better suited to the market and provide claimants and stakeholders with the necessary comfort to pursue meritorious claims”.

Charles Demoulin, Chair of ELFA and Deminor Chief Investment Officer, commented: “We are delighted to have Litica join ELFA as an Associate Member. Litica brings to the Association extensive expertise in litigation insurance, which has become an increasingly important component of litigation funding in Europe. Its presence will add a valuable perspective to ELFA’s work, particularly as the market continues to evolve across different European jurisdictions. We look forward to involving Litica in our activities and are confident that its contribution will support ELFA’s mission and the broader development of litigation funding in Europe.”

About The European Litigation Funders Association:

ELFA was founded by three leading litigation funders with a European footprint and today includes an increasing number of Europe’s most highly respected litigation funders. ELFA was established to serve as the European voice of the commercial litigation funding industry. The association has the objective of representing the industry’s interests before governmental bodies, international organisations, and professional associations. ELFA also aims to act as a clearinghouse and reference for relevant information, research and data regarding the uses and applications of commercial legal finance within the European continent. ELFA aims to be inclusive for all professional litigation funders of larger or smaller size and to allow specific contributing market participants and academics as associate members.

About Litica:

Since launching in 2019, Litica has established itself as the UK's and Europe's leading provider of commercial ATE and litigation insurance. Litica's bespoke solutions are available for a range of clients, from individuals through to listed companies, law firms and litigation funders. Trusted by and underwriting on behalf of a large panel of leading A rated insurers, Litica has been the first litigation insurance MGA to set up an exclusively EU subsidiary and has already started to tailor its core products for the EU litigation funding market.
