Cloaked in Courage

And courage helps her stand up brave
To face the light, to leave the cave.
To walk with strength, increasing strides.
Cloaked in courage, turning tides.

Courage is needed to unlock gold
The beauty within, the story untold.
Courage is needed to run your race,
To face the giants, to take your place.

Courage is needed to love others well.
In the crazy crush of our whirling world.
So take up the cloak in the midst of pain.
In the midst of trembling of trouble and blame.

And walk through the ashes, for a phoenix does rise.
In the Cloak of Courage with hope in her eyes.
