It's all about Cameron

I can only begin to describe the beauty of this man

Yes, cheeky and cheesy,

Yes, science dork and computer nerd

Yes, good friend and foe

But Cameron wore an obvious energy

The charismatic gentleman

Larger than life yet soft

Knowing something of everything and still seeking

A resonant voice but an active listener

A non-believer but an open mind that explored space and the human condition

A devoted son and brother,

A lover, so much love for me

But his main reason for striving and living, and allowing glimpses of future,

Was for his four children.

His capacity for love is immense.

Oh! Life's cruel irony

But they know him, yes, they love him

Such was his huge character

He is so imbedded in them,

They will not forget.

As I will never forget

His love, his wisdom, his strength, his strong back and pony tail

His appetite for food, life and people.

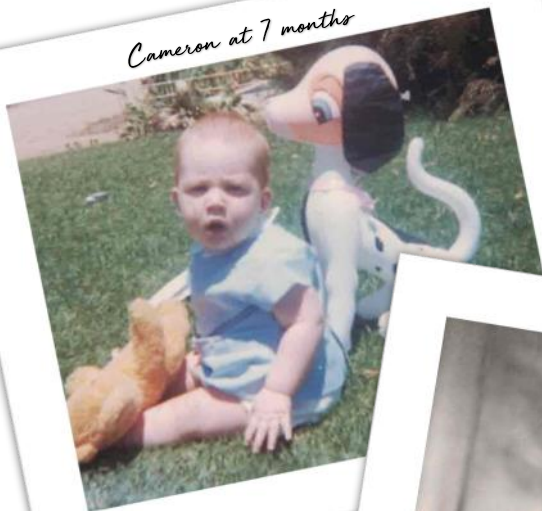

Oh Cameron, we loved well and we planned

And I will hold your love and keep going,

We are soul friends you and I

I will meet you again.
