Our Father

who art in heaven,
Hallowed be Thy Name,
Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those that trespass against us.

Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil.

Amen

From mountains torn by war and strife,
You carved your path, you built your life.
With steady hands and iron will,
You chased your dreams through dust and hill.

A miner deep beneath the sun,
A builder when the day was done.
With opals bright and steel held fast,
You shaped a future from the past.

You loved your food, your daily way,
Three glasses of water to start each day.
A piece of cheese, a quiet meal,
A simple life with strength and zeal.

You watched the races, knew the form,
Through wins and losses, calm and warm.
And when young Ruben called you "Opa,"
Your heart lit up, it soared so far.

You rarely spoke of pain or fear,
But showed your love through what was near.
You taught by doing, not by word,
Yet every action, deeply heard.

You told us all, with quiet grace:
"You have to look after yourself in this place."
And so we will, and hold you dear,
Your memory strong,

your spirit near
