Tributes
Dex's family & friends

Some people leave quietly.

And some people...

well, some people leave a bit of a mark.

They leave stories behind.

They leave laughter.

They leave a few things that were probably better not repeated in public.

They leave old trucks and motorbikes,
bits of machinery they fixed when nobody else could,
a dog that still waits for them,
and perhaps a few people wondering where they're going to find the next 'undred dollars.

They leave behind memories of hard work and muddy boots, footy games and fishing,
camping trips and nights at the pub.

They leave behind the sound of laughter.

They leave behind a lifetime of people who can say,
"I remember when Dex..."

Thank You

Dex's family are so grateful
that you could be here today,
and for the many ways in which you have shown them support.

They warmly invite you to return for refreshments and sharing of memories
here at Parkside
at the conclusion of the interment.

Following this,
you're welcome to continue celebrating Dex's life at The Top of The Town.
