Sanctions Compliance Statement

At inHEART, we are committed to conducting our activities with the highest standards of integrity, transparency, and compliance.

We strictly adhere to all applicable international trade laws and sanctions regulations, including those issued by the United Nations (UN), the European Union (EU), and the U.S. Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC).

inHEART does not engage in any business or transactions involving countries, entities, or individuals subject to international sanctions or embargoes.

Our internal processes ensure that all customers, partners, and suppliers are screened against relevant sanctions lists before entering into any contractual or commercial relationship.

This commitment safeguards our company, our partners, and the healthcare institutions we serve from any activity that could breach international law or compromise ethical standards.

Our Commitment

inHEART's mission is to provide cardiologists with innovative products and services designed with a high level of quality and safety, which help them to improve the management of their patients with heart disorders. This mission goes hand in hand with our dedication to ethical, legal, and sustainable practices.

By upholding the highest standards of compliance and professional conduct, we ensure that our technologies not only advance cardiac care but also contribute to a healthcare ecosystem built on trust, responsibility, and respect for international regulations.

We are committed to maintaining the trust of our partners and patients by ensuring full compliance with all regulatory obligations and by acting responsibly in every aspect of our operations.
