

WHAT TO KNOW WHEN CALLING FOR CHEYENNE AND ARAPAHO EMS

Knowing when and where to call for emergency medical services (EMS) could help save a life. Sometimes it's hard to decide whether to call for an ambulance instead of driving to the emergency room yourself. The basic rule is: When in doubt, call EMS at 911.

What if I prefer to use the Cheyenne & Arapaho Tribe's EMS Program?

Call 911 for Emergency and 580-323-2323 for non-emergency and request C&A EMS. All requests for EMS services should be directed to 911. Once in contact with 911, the request may be made for the Cheyenne and Arapaho (C&A) Tribe's EMS Program. If the C&A EMS is attending to another patient, 911 dispatch will deploy another EMS company servicing the patient's area. All Hospital to Hospital transfers, you have the right to request C&A EMS to transfer you to the higher level of care if not on another assignment.

Please do not contact the C&A Tribe's EMS Program directly.

What EMS service will be provided if the Cheyenne & Arapaho Tribe's EMS is on another assignment?

Clinton Area: Thomas Sinor EMS

Weatherford Area: LifeGuard EMS

El Reno Area: Pafford EMS

Elk City Area: Elk City Fire Department

Watonga Area: Watonga EMS

No matter what company responds to the emergency, always call 911 first, then make the request for the C&A EMS Program.
