

Aotearoa Sauvignon Blanc

Background: The explosive flavors of New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc have dazzled wine critics throughout the world, setting the international benchmark for style. When Marlborough's first Sauvignon Blanc vines were planted, no one could have predicted the superstar status that this variety would attain. Sauvignon Blanc was commercially produced in NZ for the first time in 1979, and is now NZ's most widely planted variety. Sauvignon Blanc the explosive varietal that awoke the world to New Zealand wine. Aotearoa is the Maori name for New Zealand

Grape Varietal: 100% New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc grapes

Country of Origin: New Zealand

Appellation: South Island-Marlborough

Technical data:

Type of bottle : 750ml bottle
Type of Closure: Stelvin closure
UPC: 4008005630600

Analytical data:

Alcohol content: 11.5%vol
Residual Sugar: 6.7 g/l

Tasting Notes: This Marlborough is fresh and zippy full of tropical and gooseberry fruit. Assails the senses with asparagus and gooseberry characters, lust tropical fruit overtones, fresh cut grass and grapefruit.

Food Suggestion: Perfect to sip on out in the sun. Enjoy with delicate fish-sole, shrimp, sushi Or a grilled chicken salad. The perfect summer wine.

CSPC # 802338

SLGA #45633

