Inspiring 2 days in Ghent with nexxworks intellectual powerhouses Steven Van Belleghem and Peter Hinssen guiding us through their view on AI, disruption, hyper connectivity, customer loyalty, the power of positive intention.. 🤖📡

For sure it feels like now we are better prepared for the day after tomorrow and the known as well as the unknown unknown. 🤖

I will keep following them as I am a big fan already, especially of their podcast 'Radar'!

👏 Thank you Brusselle Winches and Steering Gear and GARDEC for giving me this opportunity to attend this class! (we've not only discussed chips, but also ships 🚢)

What an incredible two day ride this has been! Thank you Steven Van Belleghem en Peter Hinssen for inspiring me and making me realize that I am still missing some crucial books on my bookshelves! 📖 Thank you for your enthusiasm, your preaching even 🙌🏻

In these two days, I've had the chance to connect with the most interesting people from the most diverse industries. What an enriching experience!

Still a lot to process and take in, but 3 things I wrote down in bold letters:

- 🔗 Understand the unknown and use it to change
- 🌐 Focus on life journey's instead of customer journey's and create the Top Gun effect
- 👊 Be bold in your vision & flexible in the details / execution

Thank you nexxworks for this Never Normal Masterclass!

PS: Peter Hinssen, we could have used a 3rd day to continue on the Sam Altman / OpenAI saga 🤖

Thank you Steven Van Belleghem and Peter Hinssen for a truly inspiring (and entertaining!) 2-day Never Normal Masterclass!

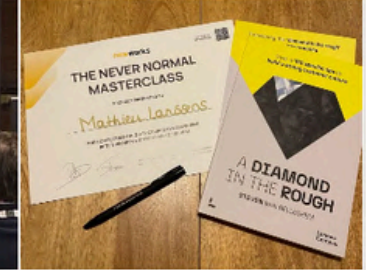

Among the many insights and ideas I take home and back to the office... a couple of them got stuck in my mind:

👉 "If you don't take change by the hand, it will take you by the throat."

and there is a "need for positivity with impact" 🙌

Thanks nexxworks for the impeccable organisation.
