From a humble background, Mr. V. Rathod grew up in a small one-room home where financial limitations existed, but ambitions never faded. He completed B.Com, M.Com, and CMA with distinction, overcoming huge financial challenges with timely support from the PEH (Pennies for Education and Health). Today, he is working as an Accounts Officer at Indian Oil Corporation Limited (IOCL) in Noida. His journey stands as a testament to gratitude, perseverance and power of opportunity; proving that with the right support and self-belief, even the biggest dreams can rise from the smallest of rooms.
