WHAT WE DO

Why does EnFin protect my personal information?	To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. We also restrict access to your personal information to those employees who need to know this information to perform their job duties. Employees who violate our policies and procedures are subject to disciplinary action.
How does EnFin collect my personal information?	We collect your personal information, for example, when you • give us your income information • provide employment information • provide account information • show your driver's license or government issued ID We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.
Why can't I limit all sharing?	Federal law gives you the right to limit only • sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness • affiliates from using your information to market to you • sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law.
