People News: Welcome Bingxin Pang

Munich, 04 May 2026

We are happy to announce the official start of Bingxin Pang as Operating Partner at SEVEST. She will be responsible for post-investment value creation across portfolio companies. Her focus is on developing and implementing value creation initiatives across business and functional units in close collaboration with all stakeholders.

Bingxin brings extensive experience in transformation and operations across various industries. Before joining SEVEST, she served as Director at Aurelius Group, leading commercial transformation and growth programs across portfolio companies. Prior to that, she was an Engagement Manager at McKinsey & Company, advising industrial companies and private equity investors on strategy, transformation, and operational performance. Earlier in her career, she held strategy, M&A, and commercial leadership roles at Siemens AG across Germany and China. She holds a Global Executive MBA from INSEAD.

Welcome Bingxin!
