About the Opponent

The Kelowna Falcons have been having a great year, currently sitting third place in the North division.

The Falcons are 5-5 in their last 10 games heading into the series, and they lost their last series against the Bells.

The Falcons have had a league-leading pitching staff, manned by Max Biddle and Seth Sumner. Their arms combine for a .247 batting average against.

Playoff Potential

The Hawks are in the midst of the playoff race tied with the Victoria HarbourCats for the second wild card slot. Kelowna are three games ahead, but the Hawks play their next six games against the Falcons, leaving a big potential outcome for the next two series.

Wenatchee seems hard to beat at the top of the standings, leaving Bellingham the likely second half berth.

Last Series

The Riverhawks were unable to get past the Kamloops NorthPaws in the previous series, dropping two of the games.

The middle game of the series was a thrilling walk off win thanks to an RBI single from Max Stagg that also put him 5-for-5 in that game including a home run!

Hawks History

Last season the Riverhawks won all three series against the Falcons, with only two losses in nine games!
