FR. PONS' REFLECTIONS

"The joys and the hopes, the griefs and the anxieties of the people of this age, especially those who are poor or in any way afflicted, these too are the joys and hopes, the griefs and anxieties of the followers of Christ. Indeed, nothing genuinely human fails to raise an echo in their hearts." Gaudium et Spes #1 (USCCB version). <https://www.usccb.org/resources/called-compassion-and-responsibility-0>.

Over the past ten days, I have had the opportunity to celebrate Mass with my brothers and sisters in Kakuma Refugee Camp and the Kalobeyei Settlement in northwestern Kenya. At the beginning of each Mass and at the start of each homily, I used this familiar proclamation: "The Lord is good all the time!" You are free to guess what might have followed if I did not get the desired response. On each of these occasions, the churches were filled to capacity. The singing was energetic, the dancing electric, and the smiles infectious. There is always a palpable sense of joy as people gather to give glory and praise to God. The majority of the congregation are youth and children. Many were born in Kakuma, a refugee camp that has existed since 1991. Yet, amid all the singing, dancing, and celebration, we ask ourselves: how are these people able to remain appreciative of God's goodness despite their struggles? How can people experience such joy while living in such difficult circumstances of a life marked by dependence on food rations, challenging weather conditions, poor roads, limited access to electricity, congested classrooms, and water scarcity, among others? These shape everyday life and present real struggles for those who call these settlements home. Amid the challenges and hardships, my congregation was joyously singing, dancing, smiling, and proclaiming God's goodness. Their joy did not erase the difficulties of their lives, nor should it lead us to overlook their suffering. But it challenged me (and I invite you to reflect on it too) to reflect more deeply on the relationship between joy, gratitude, and faith, amid suffering. I am challenged to think more about what it means to proclaim that the Lord is good all the time. Is God's goodness something we recognize only when life is comfortable, when our needs are met, and when everything seems to be going well? Or can we still proclaim His Goodness in the midst of uncertainty, scarcity, hardship, and suffering? Think about it. These wonderful people remind me that we have reason to be grateful, for God is not silent in our suffering. NB: Free to share your reflections/thoughts @WhatsApp:...

NATIONAL VOCATION AWARENESS WEEK BEGINS TODAY, NOVEMBER 1, 2026

O God, Father of all Mercies, Provider of a bountiful Harvest, send Your Graces upon those You have called to gather the fruits of Your labor; preserve and strengthen them in their lifelong service of you. Open the hearts of Your children that they may discern Your Holy Will; inspire in them a love and desire to surrender themselves to serving others in the name of Your son, Jesus Christ. Teach all Your faithful to follow their respective paths in life guided by Your Divine Word and Truth. Through the intercession of the Most Blessed Virgin Mary, all the Angels, and Saints, humbly hear our prayers and grant Your Church's needs, through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

MINISTERIO DE ORACIÓN SACERDOTAL:

Buscamos mujeres que deseen dedicar una hora a la semana

a la adoración y oración por uno de nuestros sacerdotes. Nos encantaría mantener a nuestros sacerdotes en oración constante. Si te interesa participar, envía tu información de contacto a: prayforourpriests@outlook.com.

A quienes ya forman parte de un equipo, ¡muchas gracias por su fidelidad a este ministerio! ¡Éste es nuestro cuarto año de oración silenciosa de intercesión por nuestros sacerdotes!

¡Que Dios las bendiga abundantemente a ustedes y a nuestros sacerdotes!

Somos una familia parroquial que deja una huella eterna...
...¡y no podemos hacerlo sin ti!

Apoya la misión. Dona hoy.
