PRESS RELEASE

Aria Advisory Selects Akur8 Reserving to Support Canadian P&C Mandates

Montreal, Canada | September 15, 2026

Akur8,the global actuarial AI platform, is proud to announce that Aria Advisory, an actuarial, risk, insurance, and analytics advisory firm serving the Canadian insurance industry, has selected Akur8's reserving platform to support its reserving and Appointed Actuary services for Canadian property and casualty (P&C) insurers. This solution will give Aria Advisory and its clients faster reserve estimates, a complete audit trail behind every projection, and stochastic ranges alongside traditional deterministic methods.

> Aria Advisory serves primarily Canadian P&C insurance companies and holds Appointed Actuary positions for many of them. As such, it is crucial to rely on a proven solution with a track record of excellence and innovation. This, together with strong relationships that we have built over the years, is why we chose to partner with Akur8.

Akur8 Reserving modernizes reserve analysis by bringing advanced stochastic modeling and robust deterministic solutions together in a unified platform, improving efficiency and reliability throughout. Aria

Advisory will deploy Akur8 Reserving, including both the Arius Deterministic and Stochastic analysis solutions, together with Triangles on Demand for claims data preparation and triangle construction.

Founded and led by David Mamane, FCIA FCAS MAAA, Aria Advisory delivers actuarial and insurance advisory expertise to the Canadian P&C market. Its practice covers property & casualty actuarial, insurance management, and enterprise risk management advisory services.

Management Comments

Samuel Falmagne
CEO and Co-Founder at Akur8

"Aria Advisory brings care and judgment to every client relationship. David and his team take the time to understand each organization, work closely with its people, and stand behind the analysis they deliver. Akur8 is proud to be their partner as they grow this practice in Canada. Together, we can help actuaries spend less time managing the mechanics of reserving and more time advising the people who rely on their expertise."

About Aria Advisory

Aria Advisory is built on a single conviction: People, Partnerships, and Performance are inseparable. Give exceptional professionals the conditions to do their best work, and the depth of their counsel shows. Clients feel the difference that real partnership makes. Performance becomes the proof and the industry gains a higher standard to hold itself to. That's why the people who sell the work at Aria are the people who deliver it. Boards hear from advisors with the standing to answer the hard questions, and the same team comes back cycle after cycle. Trust in front of a board or across the table from a regulator is slow to earn and easy to lose, so we treat it as the work itself, not a by-product of it.

What sets Aria apart is how it measures success: not by how indispensable it becomes, but by how much stronger it leaves the client's team. Working sessions and documentation transfer knowledge so capability compounds inside the client's organization rather than the firm's. Modern AI carries the mechanical weight where it can, freeing senior time for judgment and counsel, but it augments the professional and never replaces one. And Aria doesn't just follow where Canadian P&C is heading; its people sit on the committees that define the standards and publish in the trade press the market cites. Senior people, doing the real work, sharpened by the best tools, in service of making clients more capable than when we found them.
