

Harper floats on her back. Theo swims underwater, looking for fish. The water tastes salty on their lips.

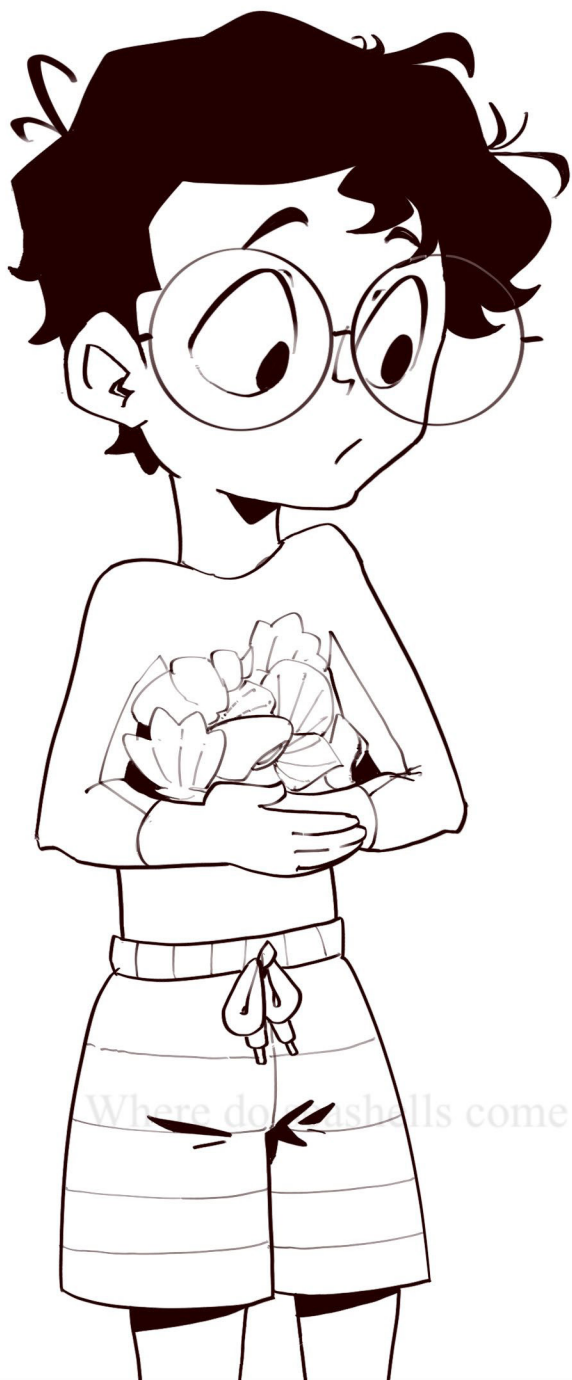

Why is ocean water salty?

Theo and Harper sprint down the beach to their mothers, who wrap them up in sun-warmed towels. Stomachs growling, the kid scientists munch on sandwiches and fruit. Delicious!

Where do seashells come from?

Where do seashells come from?